

Wood Be Beautiful

We take pride in our meticulous approach to crafting Bocage oak, our exclusive range of Hand-made 'Antique' flooring which we make in-house from start to finish. Our timber is procured exclusively from local sources in Normandy, where we handpick mature oak trees. Our commitment to quality extends to every stage of production – from kilning to machining and even our distinctive aging process – all of which take place on our premises. This deliberate choice not only empowers us to uphold our excellent level of quality control but also significantly minimizes our carbon footprint.

Bocage oak stands as a true testament to the artistry and craftsmanship we pour into each and every piece and creates a floor which, once installed, will convince you it has been in place for centuries.

The Journey

Step 1

Ethical Local Sourcing - Each tree is selected and felled by our artisan in Normandy

Step 2

Precision Saw Milling - Transform oak logs into rough-cut planks, preserving authenticity

Step 3

Gentle Kiln Drying - Stabilize wood's moisture content

Step 4

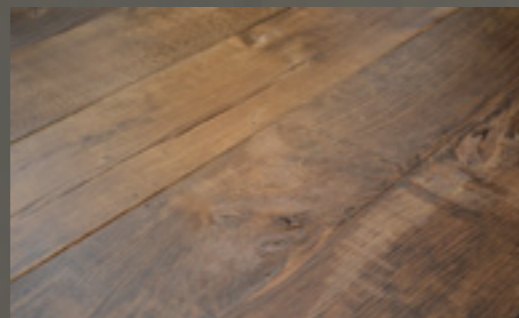

Unique Treatment Process - Subject rough-cut planks to our treatment process

Step 5

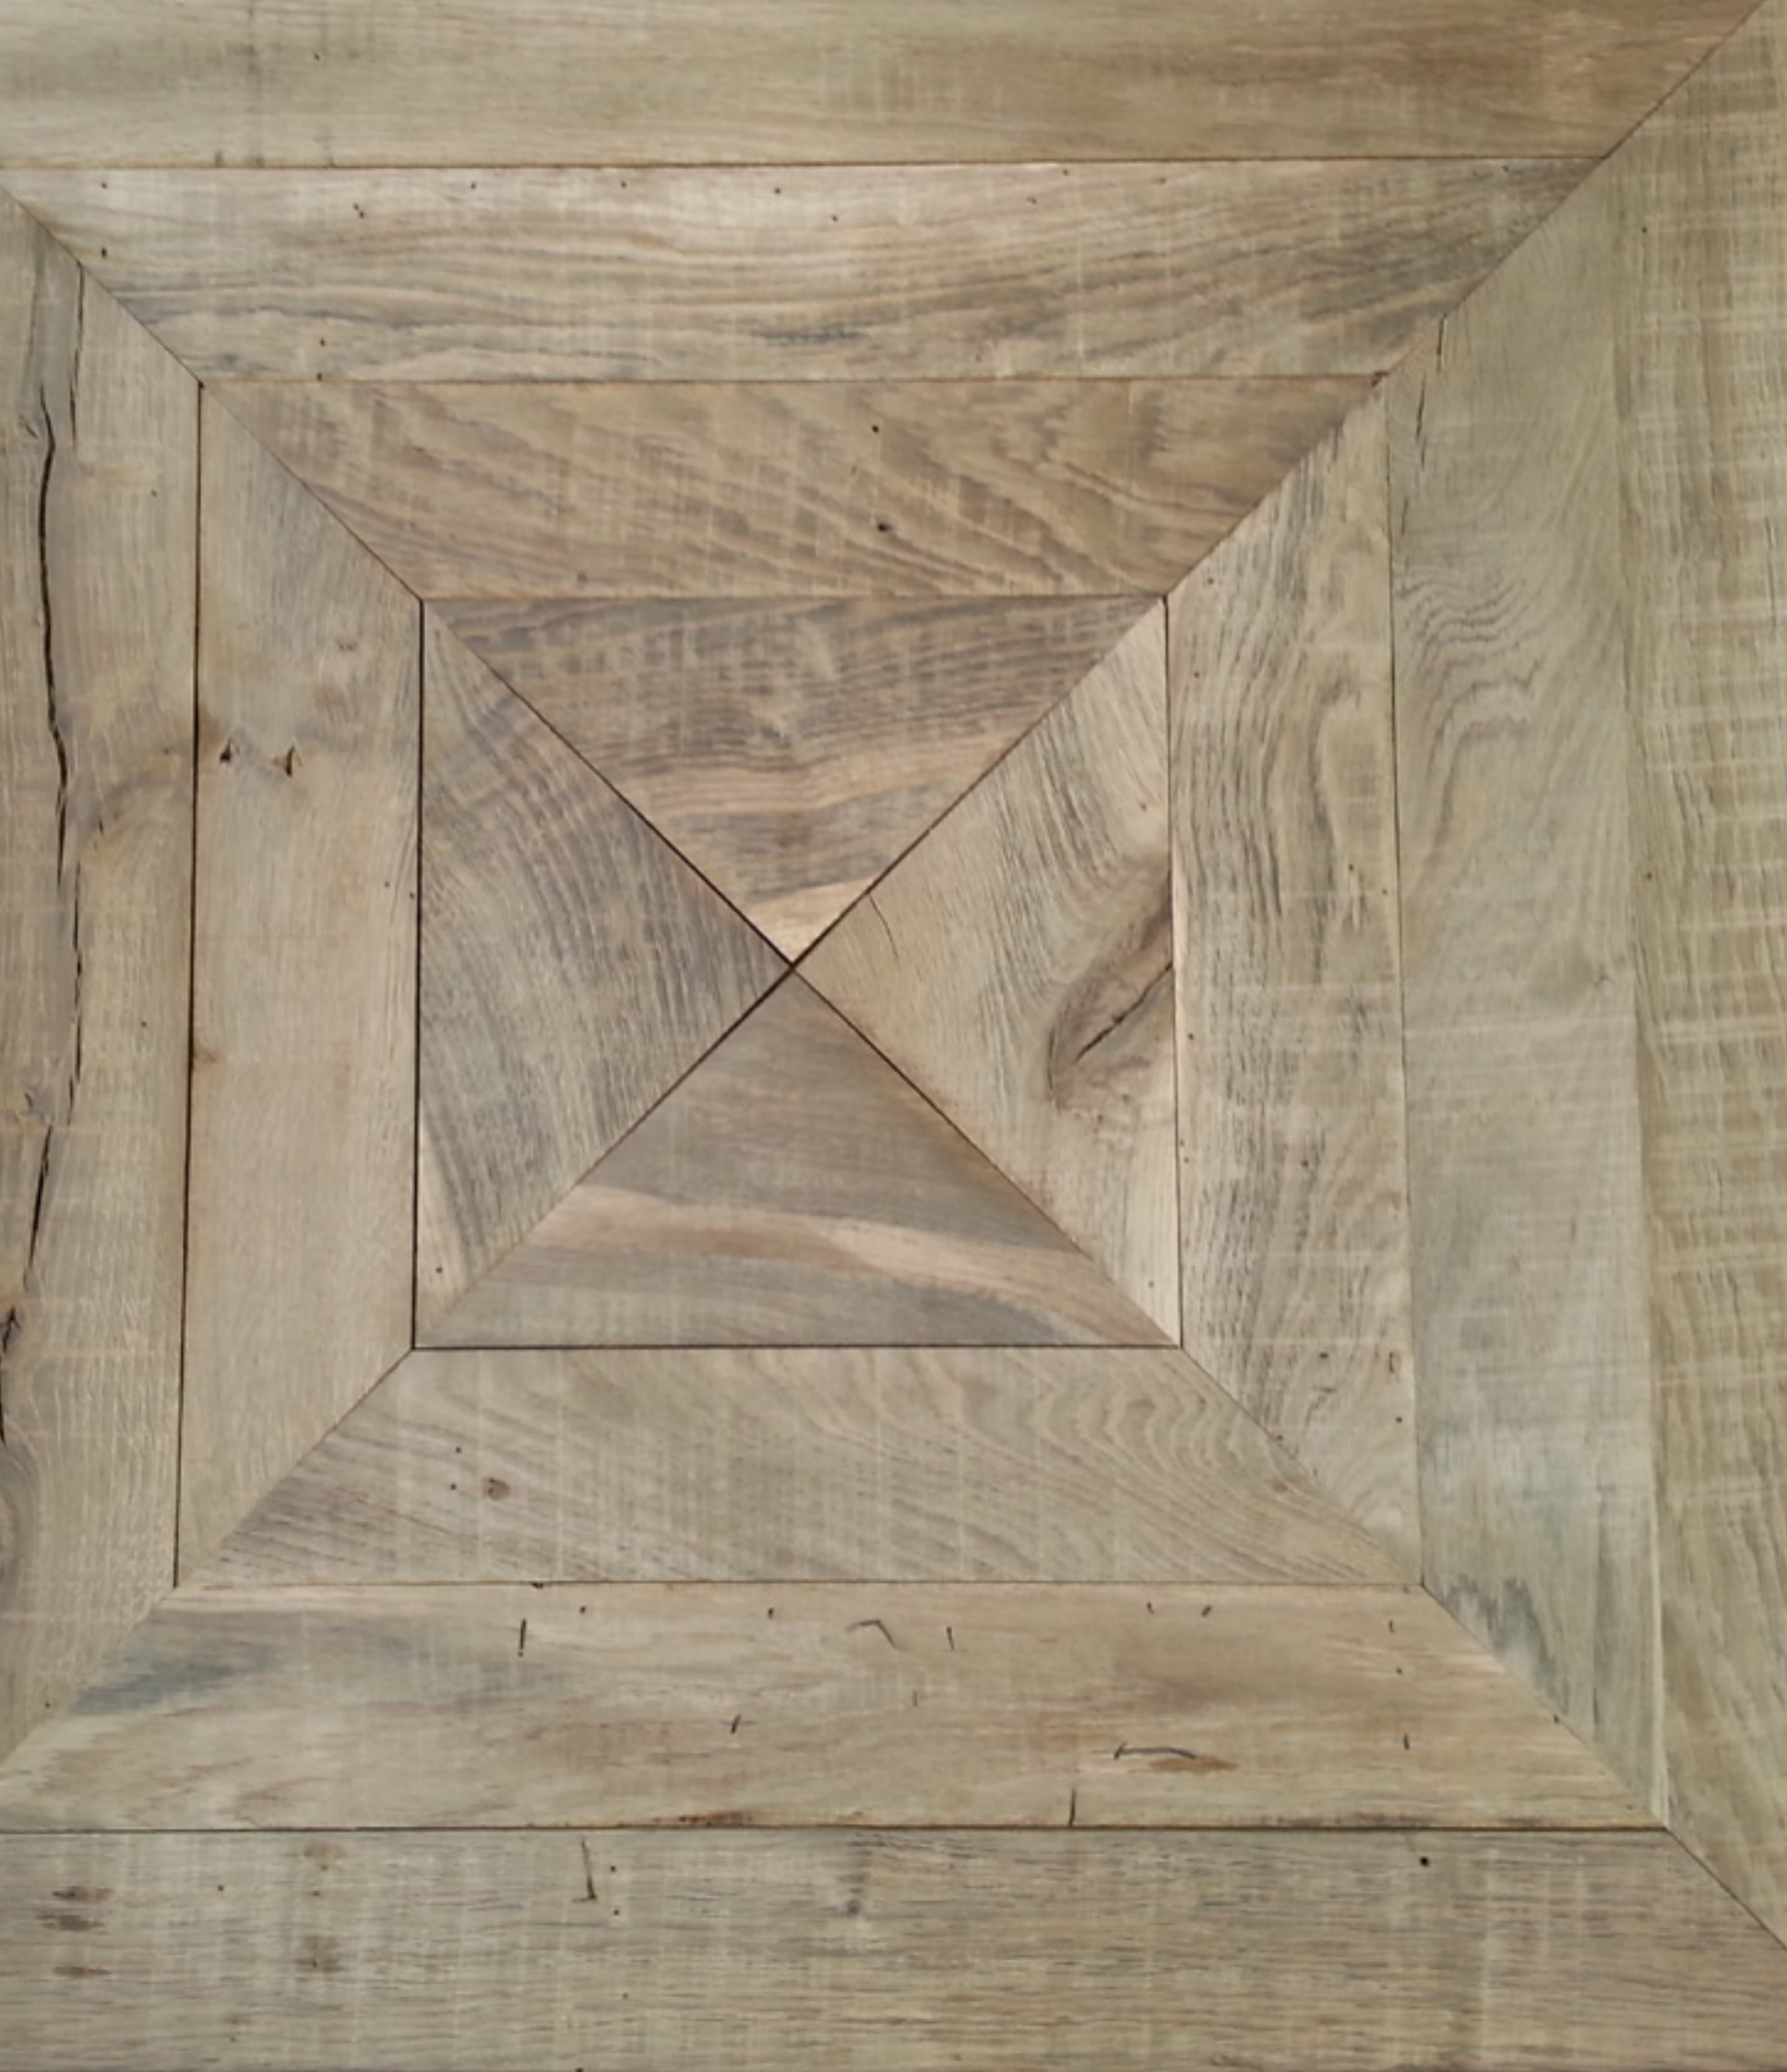

Meticulous Plank Crafting - Skilled artisans shape each plank with dedication

Step 6

Your floor can now be laid by one of our trusted partners

Our floors combine the timeless appearance and character of 18th-century oak with the modern advantages of consistency, continuity, and adaptability found in new wood. Our floors are incredibly resilient and are even suitable for installation over under floor heating. As they are individually hand made, a whole host of customisation is available.

Bocage oak is available in 4 standard products; mixed width planks, herringbone, French herringbone/chevron and parquet de Versailles (any request or design will be considered subject to cost and lead times).
